A SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

The sixth annual meeting of the Nevada State Agricultural Mining and Mechanical Society, has been a success, notwithstanding the many disadvantages under which it was held. The dullness which has been universal has had its effects, and the stringency which followed the great fire, made the outlook even worse. The first two days of the week were very unpleasant. The wind blew and the dust flew, and on Tuesday it rained and snowed some, and looked so dark and threatening, that even on Wednesday the attendance was not what it would have been, although it was larger than on any previous third day. On Thursday and yesterday the weather was beautiful. The air, cleared and rarified by the storm, showed up the lines and colors in the magnificent landscape around the neighborhood like a telescope. Men and horses felt the influence, and every muscle was tightened and every bit of energy aroused. Preachers may condemn and the women scold, but they will not wipe out the fact that horse races are very attractive. Rich and poor, great and humble, delight in a heroic effort, and the horses seem to take the sport in the same spirit. This week jobs have been very scarce. The best horses have won in every case, without regard to the pool box, and we believe neither rider or driver has been changed in any race. The utmost good feeling has prevailed on every hand, and among all classes. Perhaps the reason there has been so little "squealing" is, that the favorites have almost universally been beaten, and the men who make their business, take a cheering more philosophically than the common crowd who pick up the loose ends. The society has earned all the praise it will ever get. The expenses have been reduced about $3600 over previous years, and that, too, without any detriment to the programme, which has been fully as interesting as any ever given here. The President, Mr. Stevenson, has devoted many hard days to the work of organizing and keeping things in shape. He has not only been liberal with his time, but with his money as well, and hundreds of his dollars have been used to pay pressing bills. Capt. Bragg is justly proud of the track which was never as good as now. His discipline has been perfect. All his men have known their places and performed their duties in an effective manner. Mr. Gomstock, the Secretary, and Capt. Flanigan, his assistant, deserve the special thanks of the GAZETTE for many courtesies. Their department has been successfully and economically managed. J. C. Corey, C. C. Powning and A. A. Longley, the remaining trustees, have labored diligently and intelligently for the success of the meeting.

If the Journal ever has an original idea we will get even with it for stealing and enlarging our little map. The prospects are very poor, however. There is a mistake or two in the original which might have been corrected in the copy if we had been consulted.

Sunday in Germany.

A strict observance of Sunday is being urged in Germany, and is looked upon with favor even by those who are not church goers. It is a social and economical and not a religious movement, and the end desired is not a Sunday like that of England or America, but one on which there shall be rest and recreation for all and particularly for the artisan and so-called laboring classes. In the Catholic parts of the country all classes go to church, but they spend the rest of the day in dancing, beer drinking and other vigorous amusements. In the Protestant section they do not even go to church. The houses of worship are few, and the small number there are ill-attended. At the same time there are fewer offences against the public peace than in church-going England.

$15,000 for a Leg.

A Boston jury awarded $15,633 to John E. Green, who lost his leg at the Williston disaster on the Old Colony railroad on Oct. 8th, 1879. Green sued for $20,000.

Strangers visiting our town during the Fair will do well to call at the Great Eastern I X L. If in need of any goods usually kept in Dry Goods and Clothing stores. We guarantee to sell you goods at lower prices than can be bought anywhere in the United States.

Reno's Livestock.

In almost every town in the country such crowds as assemble at Reno during fourth of July celebrations, the meeting of the Agricultural Society and such occasions, there would be a great many acts of extortion and much suffering among both the visitors and their animals. Here there is nothing of the sort. Hammond & Wilson give to horses, accommodations which many a man might envy them. Their stable is a model of economy in point of room and of convenience. At Hymer's & Comstock's stable there seems to be no end of storing room. All the horses that come are taken care of, and still Tom cries "room for a hundred." Mr. Lee has also a fine barn and hay yard.

An accident happened this morning at the gate of the cemetery in the procession which followed Old Aunt Vina to her long home. Henry Johnson made a short turn and upset his hack, which was loaded with colored mourners. It rolled clear over its top before it stopped. No one hurt.

Oregon and Nevada.

The Davis Vertical Feed Sewing Machine has been awarded first premium this week, for best machine and best work, by the Oregon State Fair and the Nevada State Fair. Osburn & Shoemaker general agents for Nevada.

H. M. Brown is justly proud of his four hundred dollar horse last night and his grand success in his inimitable and life like impersonation of Count the Shaughraun. He is a great favorite all over the Pacific coast, and in future will be certain of a warm reception in Reno.

First Premium

Awarded to the Davis Vertical Feed Sewing Machine, at Nevada State Fair, 1879.

Accident.

A little girl about three years old daughter of Owin C. Ross, fell off the stairs of the Grand Stand. She hit on her side and hip. How badly she was injured is not known, but it is feared, seriously.

1879.

Nevada State Fair awards first premium to Davis Vertical Feed Sewing Machine. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker, who will hereafter make this machine (which they consider the best) their specialty.

NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Propagating sponges by cutting the live ones into small pieces, attaching them to lumps of rock and sinking them to proper depths in suitable places is proposed by a Prof. Schmidt. He thinks in three years they will be marketable and yield a handsome profit.

The worst spellers in the State of New York are the young ladies of Cohoes. When a girl misses a word in the schools the boy who corrects her is sternly directed by the school-ma'am to kiss her on the spot. Not the school-ma'am, but the blushing being.

It appears that 500 laurel wreaths and several thousand violet bouquets for the Prince Imperial's funeral were manufactured in Munich, neither Paris nor London artificial flower makers being able to undertake the work in the time allowed. Four thousand persons are employed in that industry by 37 factories in Munich.

Some caverns of prehistoric times have been discovered near Stramberg, in Moravia. The objects which they contained are said to prove beyond a doubt that these caverns were inhabited by man in the most remote ages, contemporaneously with the mammoth and cave bear.

The Farmers' Emigration Society, is a reality in London. It sent a batch of eighty men, with their families, to Texas the other day, and it is organizing a second and larger expedition. This first colony carried with it more than $150,000 in cash. This would give not far from $2000 to each emigrant.

A first-class female miser, Mrs. Maslin Smith, old and stingy, is just dead at Lexington, Ky. After her decease they searched the house and found hidden away in old boxes and trunks not less than $11,000 in gold and silver. The deceased, with all this money, only paid the colored woman who waited upon her $6 a month, and forced her to board herself out of that. Not a cent was left to this faithful servant, all her riches being devised to a few rich relatives.

A jurymen in the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia was necessarily excused from further service, the other day, for the simple reason that he had been convicted of stealing a pair of shoes, and so his presence was peremptorily required in the jail. There was another disappointment, for the same charming character had been announced to deliver an address before the Pioneer Sunday-School Association on the question of "What the Bible Teaches Man."

A black bass was discovered in the center of a cake of ice at Rondout, New York, two weeks ago. It had been locked up there eight months, and was frozen stiff when cut out. It was placed in a sprinkling pot containing clean water, and in half an hour it showed signs of life. Now, according to the Albany Knickerbocker, it occupies a place in a globe on the counter of a drug store and is as lively as it ever was.

They had a sweet artistic sensation in Westfield, N. J., the other day. Cassidy and Bendemecker fell out. To revenge himself, Bendemecker sawed off the horns of Cassidy's goat and painted him a la zebra, with stripes. Then the indignant goat-owner whitewashed Bendemecker's jackass. The lime so affected the poor creature that he became insane and committed suicide. Actions have been brought, with a fine array of legal talent on each side, and a bill of costs for one or the other surviving jackass to pay.
